

A report from the Horrorhound Convention weekend in Indianapolis Indiana.

The weekend was dedicated to the one and only Jamie Lee Curtis. If you missed this one you missed one of the best conventions that I have ever attended. She spent time with all of the cast members from the original movie as well as the four of us Michael types who were also in attendance in a private suite when she first arrived. She was so charming. personally it was much more than I'd hoped for after all the time that had passed. She was magnificent and so full of energy and smiles for everyone from the first moment she arrived to the brisk walk to the limo that would take her to the airport for the trip back home. She worked her butt off, and she doesn't have very much to spare, all day Saturday and Sunday. Pictures, Q&A, signings both days. Just a real pleasure to behold and I know because I snuck in on almost every little thing she did for the fans. I was very pleased that she still remembered me. We saw some old friends and made a few new ones. People like our very good friends Curtis and Dallas from New Jersey, Tim Miller, Bob "the Hat", Donnie Dorn and many more. I could go on and on but I won't. If Ms. Curtis ever does another one of these events ... don't miss it.

Take care,
